

Directions for Playing the Mandated Reporter Training Video

Background information you should know:

1. The video has been published in a Windows Media file format. You will need the Windows Media Player to view the file. If you don't have this player, you can download it for free from the Microsoft web site (<http://www.microsoft.com>).
2. You will want speakers or headphones to listen to the audio that accompanies the video.

Directions:

1. Start on the Mandated Reporter training web page, in the Training Video Options area. Select the "view the training video via the Internet" option.
2. After selecting the link, you may be prompted with a message notifying you that this link will launch "an external application". It is safe for you to proceed. Select the Launch Application button.

3. After you select the Launch Application button the Mandated Reporter training video will open in Windows Media Player. Locate the Play button near the bottom left hand side of the Windows Media Player. Click on the Play button. There will be a slight delay and then the video will start.
